

Product Design Intern

Imagine using your creativity to design the coolest toys for kids. Lucky you, because in our Design team you can learn how we do that.

INTERNSHIP · AMSTERDAM

What you'll be doing:

You will support our in-house Design team (2D and 3D) with the concept development and design of our worldwide toy campaigns for children. Together you develop our concepts and make them come to life, how cool is that?

Some tasks you'll be doing:

- Thinking and brainstorming about new (digital) concepts to strengthen our physical loyalty campaigns;
- Flow-charting and wire-framing;
- Building prototypes (either visually or hard-coding);
- Creating to-market strategy plans;
- Shaping the future of toys and delivering to an audience of millions of kids.

What qualities will you bring to the team:

- You are studying in the field of Industrial Design;
- A great eye for detail and an analytical mindset;
- A proactive attitude and can work autonomously;
- Excited about toys, games and kids;
- And of course: a super creative and innovative mind!

What we offer:

Working at UNGA is a truly rewarding experience. We offer the following benefits:

- The most play-full organization you could wish for (we not only design toys, we have a lot of games to play within the office as well);
- A company culture focused on unleashing your inner child: come as you are;
- A private in-house chef who prepares every day the best lunches in town;
- We celebrate almost everything you can think of;
- The chance to learn, play and work in an international feel-good team;
- A company with a very open character, no idea is crazy enough;
- Tons of responsibilities and cool projects to work on within the marketing team;
- Of course, a monthly bag of money (€ 500).

Acquisition as a result of this advert will not be appreciated

